

Wines from Alto Adige: Complex and Characterised by the Mountains

The wine country of Alto Adige is shaped by contrast – and the mountain ranges of the Alps. More than 20 grape varieties grow in Mediterranean valleys and up to an altitude of 1,000 metres above sea level at the foot of the Dolomites. 5,000 winegrowers and far more than 200 wineries make sure that this kind of diversity gets bottled

5.000
 winegrowers

5,600 ha
13,838 ac
 cultivated area

1 ha
2,5 ac
 average area
 per company

< 1%
 of Italy's
 winegrowing area

274
 wineries

200-1.000
 elevations (a. s. l.)

64% / 36%
 production of white wine / red wine

20
 different grape varieties

98%
 share of DOC wines
 in production

■ Winegrowing areas

-  Wine Road
-  River
-  Highway

